

HOW to take care of your SKIN after having a PLASMA WAVE treatment

- For three days after the treatment do not apply make up or any other product. Allow for the skin to heal and produce C1 collagen. No rubbing and no dabbing
- On Day four start applying the hydrating mask every morning and every night on the area where the treatment was carried out.

WHAT TO EXPECT:

Typical post treatment healing timeline

Day 0 : Slight swelling, redness, occasional blood spotting, skin discoloration.

Day 1: Maximum swelling, still red, slightly tender like sunburn, micro-scab formation.

Day 2: 25% less swelling, micro-scabs start drying out, skin discoloration still present. Can cover with foundation.

Day 3: 50% less swelling, micro-scabs start shedding naturally, skin discoloration starts to fade. Skin starts showing signs of visibly tightening.

Day 4: 75% recovered, still tender to the touch, micro-scabs darken and continue to shed.

Day 5 onwards: For the next 6 to 8 weeks, the skin continues to recover and tighten during the healing process.

Results last a minimum of 18 months depending on lifestyle, genetics and external factors.

For maximum results:

- Ask your practitioner about a serum to stabilise the pigmentation process in your skin called tyrosinase in order to prevent permanent discoloration or patches on darker skin types.

- Use SPF daily to protect the treated area and avoid the sun until the skin has completely recovered.

- Allow the micro-scabs to shed naturally please. Encouraging the scabs to fall off may lead to scarring, pigmentation or infection.

Day 1 - 3 Simply splash with water and apply non chemical spf.

Day 4 - 14 avoid actives like AHA's and BHA's directly on the area, but feel free to return to your basic skincare routine. Cleanse, Hydrate, Protect.

Your skin care practitioner will provide you with a tailored homecare routine to further support your skincare goals beyond day 14.

WHAT IS THE Plasmawave™ DEVICE

The Plasmawave™ plasma device creates genuine plasma output not an electrical current. This plasma arc permits precise 'soft surgery' such as skin tag and mole removal as well as effective non-surgical blepharoplasty (eyelid correction) and other treatments using sublimation, fulguration and electro coagulation. The device provides safe acne treatments using a plasma ring with a disposable patch. Plasma lifting utilises a 500Hz modulated frequency which is specialised for deep wrinkle treatments. Additionally, the device has permeating and fractional tips which allow treatment to boost the trans dermal absorption of cosmetics.

ADVANTAGES VS SURGERY:

- No cutting of skin No stitches required
- Very low risk procedure (NO risk of blindness as there is with surgery)
- Minimal side effects and far less downtime
- Quick & easy procedure
- No thinning of the skin
- Significant cost saving

INDICATIONS:

- Blepharoplasty
- Lifting of face and neck
- Lifting of excess skin of arms and abdomen
- Stretch Marks
- Treatment of acne
- Post-acne scars
- Scars - Discoloration of the skin (age spots, solar lentigo)
- Warts
- Xanthelasma

PROCEDURE:

- Client Consultation Form
- To reduce discomfort and any pain associated with the treatment a topical anesthetic should be applied to the skin (purchased by the patient before treatment,)
- The area should be cleaned with a non-alcohol cleanser,
- The area must be dry before treatment with no oils on skin
- Mark the areas to be treated with a skin marking pen
- Perform the treatment with the PLASMA WAVE.
